HANDS ON

DIY MINION MASON JAR

SUPPLIES

- Mason jar/glass jar
- Yellow and black glass paint
- Yellow cardstock
- Styrofoam ball
- Brown paint
- Black elastic
- Glue gun

INSTRUCTIONS

Pour a generous amount of yellow glass paint into the mason jar.

Place the lid and shake the jar to cover the inside with yellow paint.

Remove the lid, and hold the jar upside down to let the excess paint drip out. Let the jar dry.

Trace the jar lid on yellow paper and glue it inside the lid.

Cut a styrofoam ball in half, and glue it inside the lid on top of the yellow paper.

Use a foam pouncer or brush to make the brown eyeball on the foam ball.

Cut a piece of black elastic to fit around the jar.

Glue the elastic to the lid, and place the 'goggle' on the jar.

Use black paint to make the Minion's smiley. Now, your Minion mason jar is ready!

For sauce: Oil - 3 tsp, Cumin - 1 tsp, Dried red chilli - 1, few Curry leaves, Garlic, finely chopped - 3 cloves, Ginger, finely chopped - 1 inch, Chilli, slit - 1, Tomato sauce - 2 tbsp, Chilli sauce - 1 tsp, Salt - ¼ tsp, Curd - 2 tbsp, Food colour - 2 drops, Coriander, finely chopped - 2 tbsp

METHOD

In a large bowl take cornflour, rice flour, pepper, chilli powder, turmeric, coriander powder and garam masala.

Add ginger-garlic paste, curd, lemon juice and salt. Prepare a smooth batter with water and coat the paneer cubes with the batter. Deep fry until the paneer turns golden and crisp.

In a large kadai/pan heat oil and add cumin, red chilli, few curry leaves, garlic cloves, ginger and chilli and saute on high flame.

Add tomato sauce, chilli sauce and salt. Stir fry on high flame then lower flame.

Add water and curd. Mix well.

Optionally, add red food colour. Now add the fried paneer and mix them well.

Garnish with chopped coriander leaves and enjoy.

CHICKPEA FRITTERS

INGREDIENTS

1 cup dried white chickpeas (kabuli chana or safed chana), 1 teaspoon cumin seeds, 1 or 2 green chilli, chopped, 1 pinch asafoetida (hing), ¼ inch ginger, chopped, 1 medium onion, chopped, ¼ cup chopped coriander leaves, ¼ teaspoon coriander powder, ½ teaspoon crushed black pepper, 1.5 to 2 table-spoon rice flour, ½ tea-spoon sugar - optional, Salt as required, Vegetable oil

METHOD

Rinse and soak chickpeas in water for 8 hours / overnight.

Drain them and grind with chopped green chillies, ginger, asafoetida and cumin seeds to a semi coarse mixture. Add water if required. Remove the chickpea mixture to a bowl. Add finely chopped onions, coriander leaves, coriander powder, crushed black pepper, rice flour, sugar and salt. Mix very well and shape into round and flat patties.

Heat oil in a pan and fry the chickpea fritters till both sides are crisp and golden.

Drain them on kitchen napkins to remove excess oil. Serve hot with chutney.
